

Note bio-bibliografiche sugli autori

Jorge Benedicto is Professor of Political Sociology at the National Distance Education University (UNED), Spain. He has been Visiting Professor at the University of Florence (Italy) and at the Observatoire Jeunes et Société – Centre Urbanisation, Culture et Société (Institut National de la Recherche Scientifique, Québec-Canada). He has been Director of Master in Youth and Society (UNED-INJUVE). He directs the Research Group on Society and Politics (UCM-UNED) and participates in Work Group Youths and Childhoods: Social Institutions, Policies and Cultures of CLACSO. He works about socio-political dynamics of young people, the analysis of political culture and citizenship in contemporary societies. He has published many works about youth and citizenship and young people and politics in academic journals as «European Societies», «Journal of Youth Studies», «Revista de Estudios de Juventud», «Revista Internacional de Sociología». Among his most recent publications: (with M.L. Morán) De la integración adaptativa al bloqueo en tiempos de crisis. Preocupaciones y demandas de los jóvenes, in M.L. Morán (ed.), Actores y demandas en España. Análisis de un inicio de siglo convulso (Libros La Catarata 2013); The political cultures of young people: an uncertain and unstable combinatorial logic, «Journal of Youth Studies» (6/2013); (with M.L. Morán) Los jóvenes como actores sociales y políticos en la sociedad global, «Pensamiento Iberoamericano» (3/2008).

Gianfranco Bettin Lattes, former Full Professor of Sociology in the Faculty of Political Sciences “C. Alfieri” of Firenze and series editor of Biblioteca di Sociologia (Cedam publishing, Padova). He is currently series editor of Sociologia politica (FrancoAngeli publishing, Milano) and director of the journal «SocietàMutamentoPolitica. Rivista italiana di sociologia» (Firenze University Press, Firenze). His recent publications: (with L. Raffini, eds.), L'eclissi del ceto medio, «SocietàMutamentoPolitica. Rivista italiana di sociologia» (7/2013); (with L. Raffini, eds.) Manuale di Sociologia (2 vols., Cedam 2011); (ed.) Europa. Pensieri e parole di sociologia (Monduzzi 2009); (with A. Pirni and S. Monti Bragadin, eds.) Tra il Palazzo e la strada. Gioventù e democrazia nella società europea (Rubbettino 2008); (with M. Bontempi, eds.) Generazione Erasmus? L'identità europea tra vissuto e istituzioni (Firenze University Press 2008); (with P. Turi, eds.) La sociologia di Luciano Cavalli (Firenze University Press 2008); (with J.F. Tezanos, eds.) Los nuevos europeos: tendencias en ciudadanía, identidades y exclusion social en los jóvenes europeos, Special Issue «Sistema», (197-198/2007); (with E. Recchi, eds.) Comparing European Societies. Towards a sociology of EU (Monduzzi 2005).

Pierluca Birindelli earned his PhD in Sociology at the University of Firenze and has been a PhD Visiting Fellow at the University of Texas at Austin and at the Institut d'Etudes Politiques (Université de Paris). In 2010, he was awarded the qualification of Researcher in Sociology and Cultural Anthropology by the Italian National Research Council and in 2013 became Docent in Sociology at the University of Helsinki. He taught in the University of Florence and at Georgetown University. In Florence he is currently teaching Cultural Sociology at Gonzaga University and at the International Studies Institute. He has been an active member of the research network Biographical Perspective (European Sociological Association). Birindelli's research interests focus on the following themes: individual and collective narrative identities; cultural globalization, cosmopolitanism and European socio-cultural representations; values, media and self-identity; social, cultural, symbolic and economic capital; the passage from youth to adulthood in a comparative perspective (American, northern European and Mediterranean cultural heritage); play, experience and social relationships. Birindelli has authored a number of articles addressing the themes of individual and collective identity, two books on youth and generations: Clicca su te stesso. Sè senza l'altro (Bonanno 2006); I giovani italiani tra famiglia e scuola (Aracne 2010); a monograph about self-identity in late modernity: Sé: concetti e pratiche (Aracne 2008) and another book about cultural influences upon local politics and economy: Il futuro del distretto. Atteggiamenti e strategie degli attori locali (Aracne 2010). He is also the author of the book The Passage from Youth to Adulthood: Narrative and Cultural Thresholds (University Press of America 2014).

Alessandro Cavalli is Emeritus Professor in Sociology at the University of Pavia. He has been President of the Scientific Council of the Iard Institute (Milano), Vice-President of the Italian Sociology Association. He is currently member of the Academia Europaea, non resident National member of the Accademia delle Scienze of Torino, corresponding associate of the Accademia dei Lincei. He is the author of numerous publications in Italian, French, English and German and is member of the scientific committees of different Italian and foreign reviews. Some of his recent publications: (with C.

Leccardi, eds.) Le quattro stagioni della ricerca sociologica sui giovani, «Quaderni di Sociologia» (62/2013); (with O. Galland and V. Cicchelli, eds.) Deux pays, deux jeunesses? La condition juvénile en France et en Italie (Pur 2008); (with C. Buzzi and A. de Lillo, eds.) Rapporto giovani: Sesta indagine dell'Istituto Iard sulla condizione giovanile in Italia (il Mulino 2007).

Vincenzo Cicchelli is Associate Professor at the University Paris Descartes and Research Fellow at the Gemass (CNRS/Paris Sorbonne). Former General secretary of the European Sociological Association, he currently is the chair of the Research Network Global, transnational and cosmopolitan sociology (ESA). He is the series editor of Youth in a Globalizing World (Brill Publishing, Leyden-Boston). His primary research and teaching interests are in global studies, cosmopolitanism, international comparisons, and youth conditions in the Euro-Mediterranean area. Among his last books: (with V. Cotesta and M. Nocenzi, eds.), Global Society, Cosmopolitanism and Human Rights (Cambridge Scholar Publishing 2013); L'autonomie des jeunes (La documentation Française 2013); L'esprit cosmopolite. Voyages de formation des jeunes en Europe (Presses de SciencesPo 2012).

Francisco José Francés García is Extraordinary PhD award by the University of Alicante, he works currently as lecturer in the Department of Sociology II at the University of Alicante. His main researching fields are social participation, political sociology, migration and youth. He has worked with numerous public institutions in technical advisory work, research grants and conducting sociological research. He has participated in over twenty public projects as main researcher or collaborator. He has also published several articles in national and international journals. He is collaborating currently with different research institutions, like European Observatory of Social Trends, Permanent Seminar on Social Studies or Interuniversity Institute for Social Development and Peace. Recent publications: (with E. Ganuza) Participatory Budgeting in Spain: mobilization experiences, in Y. Sintomer et al. (eds.) Participatory budgeting in Asia and Europe. Key challenges of deliberative democracy (Palgrave Macmillan 2013); (with O. Santacreu Fernández) Las identidades transitorias: Estrategias de socialización de los residentes europeos en la Comunidad Valenciana, «Revista Internacional de Sociología» (71/2013); (with E. Ganuza) El círculo virtuoso de la democracia: los presupuestos participativos a debate (Centro de Investigaciones Sociológicas 2012); (with E. Ganuza) The deliberative turn in participation: the problem of inclusion and deliberative opportunities in participatory budgeting, «European Political Science Review» (4/2012); (with E. Ganuza, R. Lafuente and F. Garrido) Do participants change their preferences in the deliberative process?, «Revista Española de Investigaciones Sociológicas» (139/2012).

Andy Furlong is Professor of Social Inclusion and Education (Robert Owen Centre) and dean of research (Social Sciences College Senior Management) at the University of Glasgow. His research interests revolve around the experiences of young people in education and their transitions from education to employment. He is managing editor and founder of «Journal of Youth Studies», member of Editorial Board of «British Journal of Sociology of Education», «Journal of Longitudinal and Life Course Studies» and Editorial Advisor of «International Social Science Journal» (Issue 164, 2000). Among his most recent books: Youth Studies. An introduction (Routledge 2013); (ed.) Handbook of Youth and Young Adulthood. New perspectives and agendas (Routledge 2009); (with D. Woodman) Youth and Young Adulthood: Critical Concepts in Sociology (Routledge 2009); Higher Education and Social Justice (Open University Press 2009); (with F. Cartmel) Young People and Social Change: New Perspectives (Open University Press 2007).

Valérie Germain is PhD in Sociology associate at LEST (Laboratoire d'Économie et de Sociologie du Travail). Her thesis is focused on the transition to adulthood in a society with rising educational achievements. Her publications are: (with N. Olympio) Parcours scolaires en France et espace d'opportunités : une analyse à l'aune de la théorie des capacités de Sen, «Formation-Emploi» (120/2012); Le phénomène de décohabitations-recohabitations chez les jeunes adultes diplômés du supérieur. Passage à la vie adulte et mobilité résidentielle : un jeu par essais-erreurs, in A. Chamahian and C. Lefrançois (eds.), Vivre les âges de la vie. De l'adolescence au grand âge (L'Harmattan 2012); (with T. Blöss) L'entrée dans la vie adulte : quelle analyse « sociologique » sur le long terme ?, in J. Hamel et al. (eds.), La jeunesse n'est plus ce qu'elle était (Presses Universitaires de Rennes 2010).

Simona Gozzo is Assistant Professor in Sociology at the University of Catania. She realized several seminars and tutorials about social research methods and she attended various national and international conferences about political, sociological and methodological studies. During recent years her research interests have been focused on the fields of cognitive maps, values and political behaviour. Currently, her research interests include studies referable to new poverties, social cohesion, political culture and social behaviour, generation gaps and gender differences. She is also interested in sociological application of multi-level models, agent-based simulations and network analysis. Recent publications: La coesione interrotta, «Cambio» (5/2013); Senso civico e partecipazione (Aracne 2010); Le giovani generazioni e il declino della partecipazione, «Società Mutamento Politica. Rivista italiana di sociologia» (2/2010); Il colore della politica (Bonanno 2008).

Riccardo Guidi (PhD in History and Sociology of Modernity) is currently Adjunct Professor in Sociology of Work at the Department of Political Sciences of University of Pisa and Senior Researcher at Volunteering and Participation Foundation. His main research interests are welfare politics/policies, youth, social and political participation. Among his publications: In cerca di consenso e stabilità, «Autonomie Locali e Servizi Sociali» (1/2014); Giovani al potere (Cesvot 2014); (with G. Cordella, eds.) Costruire politiche giovanili (Carocci 2012); Il welfare come costruzione socio-politica (FrancoAngeli 2011).

Kazem Hajizadeh is a PhD Student of Sociology at Shahid Beheshti University (Tehran). He also works as research assistant at SBU. His research interests are Muslim World studies, Sociology of religion and Economic sociology. His last publication is Religion's Role in Constitutions of the World. A Sociological Study of the Twentieth Century, «Romanian Review of Social Sciences» (4/2013). He translated from English to Farsi The United States and Iran in Iraq: Risks and Opportunities (by J.S. Yaphe) and The Ethos of Progress in a Village in Iran (by R. Loeffler).

Carmen Leccardi has taught and done research work in various Italian universities. She is currently Full Professor of Sociology at the University of Milano-Bicocca and director of the PhD program in Applied Sociology and Social Research Methodology. Since 2013 she is President of the European Sociological Association. She is scientific coordinator of the ABCD Interdepartmental Centre for Gender Studies, and director of the Gender Cultures inter-university research centre. Her field is the study of processes of cultural change. In this context she has carried out national and international research into cultural models, with a particular focus on youth; changing identities; gender and generational differences; experiences of time and how these change. In her research work she prioritises qualitative approaches, and hermeneutic methods in particular. Her recent books: (with C. Feixa and P. Nilan, eds.) Chronotopes of Youth: Spaces and Times of Youth Cultures in the Global City, (Brill in print); (with C. Feixa, S. Kovacheva, H. Reiter and T. Sekulic, eds.) 1989. Young People and Social Change after the Fall of the Berlin Wall (Council of Europe 2012); (with M. Rampazi and M.G. Gambardella) Sentirsi a casa. I giovani e la riconquista degli spazi-tempi della casa e della metropoli (Utet 2011); Sociologie del tempo. Soggetti e tempo nella società dell'accelerazione (Laterza 2009); (with E. Ruspini, eds.) A New Youth? Young People, Generations and Family Life (Ashgate 2006); (with P. Jedlowski) Sociologia della vita quotidiana (il Mulino 2003); Tra i generi. Rileggendo le differenze di genere, di generazione, di orientamento sessuale (Guernini 2003).

Alessandro Martelli is tenured Assistant Professor of Sociology at the School of Political Science (Forlì Campus) and member of the Department of Sociology and Business Law of the University of Bologna. His scientific production concerns mainly two fields: young people in relation to active citizenship and social change; transformations of welfare systems and organisation of social policies. Recent publications: The debate on young people and participatory citizenship. Questions and research prospects, «International Review of Sociology» (2/2013); with M. Cuconato and N. De Luigi, Youth participation in the framework of the reformulation of local youth policies in Italy, in P. Loncle, M. Cuconato, V. Muniglia and A. Walther (eds.), Youth Participation in Europe. Beyond Discourses, Practices and Realities, Policy Press (2012).

Chiara Moroni is Contract Professor of Public communication at the Faculty of Political Sciences at the University “La Tuscia” of Viterbo. She is graduated in Political Sciences at the University of Perugia and she got her PhD in Sociology and Political sociology at the University of Firenze. She is interested first of all in mass media, digital media, Political communication and new forms of participation. Her recent publications are: Genesi e storia del popolo della libertà, Quale futuro per un partito unico del centrodestra, (Rubbettino 2012); La politica al tempo dei social network, in G. Fiorentino and M. Pireddu (eds.), Galassia Facebook. Comunicazione e vita quotidiana (Nutrimenti 2012); Il discorso politico al femminile: differenze di genere nella comunicazione politica, «Rivista di politica» (1/2010); Da Forza Italia al Popolo della Libertà (Carocci 2008).

Andrea Pirni is Associate Professor in Political Sociology at the University of Genova (Department of Political Sciences). He is member of the executive committee of the Inter-University Centre for Political Sociology (Ciuspo – Firenze) and board member of the research committee Sociologia politica (Associazione Italiana di Sociologia). He is member of the editorial board of the scientific journals «Società Mutamento Politica. Rivista italiana di sociologia», «Partecipazione e Conflitto», «OBETS. Revista de Ciencias Sociales» and «Cahiers di Scienze Sociali». His topic is the relationship between social change and transformations of democracy; his empirical researches focus on the political identity of new generations, and deal with migrants’ political issues. Among his recent books: (ed.) Giovani adesso. Le nuove generazioni a 150 anni dall’Unità d’Italia (Università Popolare di Torino Editore 2012); (with C. Colloca and S. Milani, eds.) Città e migranti in Toscana (Cesvot 2012); (with G.B. Varnier, eds.) Tra Settecento e Novecento: le sfide del cambiamento (Ecig 2012); (with P. Parra Saiani et al.) Per un’integrazione possibile. Processi migratori in sei aree urbane (FrancoAngeli 2010); (with S. Monti Bragadin and G. Bettin Lattes, eds.) Tra il Palazzo e la strada. Gioventù e democrazia nella società europea (Rubbettino 2008); Verso una nuova democrazia? Una risposta sociologica (Ecig 2008).

Illaria Pitti is postdoctoral Fellow at the Department of Sociology and Business Law of the University of Bologna and appointed expert of the Congress of Local and Regional Authorities of the Council of Europe. She is mainly interested in youth participation during transitions to adulthood and in the transformations of the social meanings of adulthood among the younger generations. She has taken part to different researches on the issues of youth behaviours, education, life styles, engagement and policy at a local, national and international level. Recent publications: (with M. Cuconato and A. Martelli) Transizioni e processi decisionali tra passato, presente e futuro and (with F. Taddia 2014) I territori della ricerca: I quartieri Navile e San Donato come studi di caso, in M. Cuconato (ed.), Il tempo delle medie. Esperienze scolastiche e transizioni generazionali (Carocci 2014); (with M. Garzya, C. Giustini, A. Tolomelli and S. Volturo) Empowerment e partecipazione. La realtà bolognese come studio di caso (FrancoAngeli 2013); Ripensare la giovinezza in un'ottica intergenerazionale, «Autonomie Locali e Servizi Sociali» (1/2012).

Daniela Preda is Full Professor at the University of Genova, Jean Monnet Chair ad personam in History and Politics of European Integration since 1995, director of the degree courses Diplomatic and international studies of the University of Genova. Former president of the Associazione universitaria di Studi Europei (Italian section of ECSA), she is member of the Scientific Board of the PhD course Institutions, ideas and political movements in the contemporary Europe at the University of Pavia. Her most important interests of research concern the history of the European Community and the history of the federalist movements. Among her most recent publications: (with U. Morelli, eds.) L'Italia e l'unità europea dal Risorgimento a oggi. Idee e protagonisti (Cedam 2014); (with D. Pasquinucci and L. Tosi, eds.) Communicating Europe. Journals and European Integration 1939-1979 (Peter Lang 2013); (ed.) Avanti adagio. I Trattati di Roma e l'unità europea (Cedam 2013); (with S. Negruzzo, eds.) Perché sono europeo. Studi per Giulio Guderzo (Unicopli 2013); (with D. Pasquinucci, eds.) Consensus and European Integration. An historical Perspective/Consensus et intégration européenne. Une perspective historique (Peter Lang 2012); (with C. Rognoni Vercelli and P.G. Fontana, eds.) Altiero Spinelli, il federalismo europeo e la Resistenza (il Mulino 2012).

Oscar Antonio Santacreu Fernández is PhD in Sociology by the University of Alicante. He Works as lecturer in the Department of Sociology II and academic management in the Faculty of Economics at the University of Alicante. His research lines are migration and mobility, ethnocentrism, European integration, research methodology and development of technologies for research and teaching. He has participated in more than fifty public projects as main researcher or collaborator, including European, National and regional I+D programs. He has published several articles in national and international academic journals. He is member of different research institutions as the European Observatory of Social Trends (OBETS) or the Interuniversity institute for Social Development and Peace (IUDESP), which is also WHO Collaborating Centre on Social Inclusion and Health. Among his recent publications: (with A. Alaminos) La integración cultural y social en las migraciones intraeuropeas, «Migraciones» (30/2011); (with A. Alaminos and M.C. Albert) La movilidad social de los emigrantes españoles en Europa, «Revista Española de Investigaciones Sociológicas» (129/2010); (with A. Alaminos and C. López) Etnocentrismo, xenofobia y migraciones internacionales en una perspectiva comparada, «Convergencia. Revista de Ciencias Sociales» (17/2010); (with A. Alaminos) Hidden migrations: Spanish high skilled migration in the EU, «International Journal of Contemporary Sociology» (47/2010); (with A. Alaminos) Living Across Cultures in a Transnational Europe, in E. Recchi and A. Favell (eds.), Pioneers of European Integration: Citizenship and Mobility in the EU (Edward Elgar Publishing 2009); (with A. Alaminos et al.) El retorno de las migraciones circulares: La regulación de las migraciones profesionales, «OBETS. Revista de Ciencias Sociales» (3/2009).

Dario Tuorto is Associate Professor at the University of Bologna, where he teaches Sociology of social inclusion and exclusion. His main research topics in the field of Political sociology are turnout, party activism, political and social youth involvement. He is a member of Itanes (Italian National Election Studies) Association. Recent publications: (with A. Blais) Angry enough to abstain? Turnout, political discontent and the economic crisis in the 2013 election, «Polis» (1/2014); (with P. Corbetta and N. Cavazza) Parents and children in the political socialization process: What has changed in Italy in 35 years, in S. Abendschön (ed.), Growing into Politics: Contexts and Timing of Political Socialisation, (ECPR Press 2013); Il lavoro difficile. Discriminazione lavorativa e gruppi discriminati (il Mulino 2012); (with G. Passarelli) The Lega Nord goes south. The electoral advance in Emilia-Romagna. A new territorial model?, «Political Geography» (31/2012); (with G. Passarelli) Lega Nord & Padania. Storie e luoghi delle camicie verdi (il Mulino 2012).